

Table of Contents

1. Our Purpose	1
Target audience	1
Target population	1
2. By Way of Introduction	3
Development of presymbolic and symbolic communication	3
Research on tangible symbols	3
3. What Are Tangible Symbols? Terminology that We Use	5
Symbols	5
Referents	5
Abstract symbols	5
Concrete symbols	5
Tangible symbols	6
4. Who Needs Tangible Symbols? Readiness	9
Expressive communication	9
Receptive communication	10
5. What's In It For Me? Motivation	11
Conducting preference probes	11
6. Getting Your Point Across – Indicating Response	13
Gaining attention	14
7. Lots to Talk About – Referents	15
Materials used in activities	15
Activities	16
“Finished”	16
People	16
8. Putting It Another Way – Levels of Representation	17
Three-dimensional symbols	17
Identical objects	18
Partial or associated objects	18
One or two shared features	18
Creating associations	19
Two-dimensional symbols	20
Photographs	20
Specific line drawings	20
Generic line drawings	21
9. Where to Start? Tangible Symbols Pretest	23
Part 1	23
Part 2	23
Order of testing	24